Opening Narration:

Fredrick P. Carberry, a Jack of all trades and tradesman of all talents. A struggling artist looking to carve his name into time itself. A man, fearing oblivion, who will soon find himself face to face with the Twilight Zone.

Closing Narration:

We cannot blame Fredrick Carberry. In reaching for, as all men do: wealth, immortality, he found himself erected not in history, but frozen in time, frozen... In the Twilight Zone.
